

This class is designed to expand on the concepts learned in Drama 1 and to introduce advanced theatrical concepts such as in-depth scene and character development, history of drama, dramatic structure, set, lighting, costume, make-up design, playwriting, and theatre's relation to other art forms. Students will learn through hands-on activities as well as classroom discussion. This goal of this course is for the student to explore all facets of the Theatre while continuing to develop their acting skills. All students will learn how to work together as a theater community in order to run a performance. At the completion of this course, the student will be able to develop a character profile and perform as a specific character, show working knowledge of dramatic history and structure, prepare a basic set, costume, lighting, and make-up design for a specific show, write a scene for a play, and demonstrate understanding of how Theatre relates to various other art forms.
